L. A. W. Notes.

Application blanks for membership in the L. A. W., may be obtained from Arthur Kimball, Local Consul, Bloomfield Post Office.

The question of building a cycle path between Jersey City and Newark, across the meadows, is being considered by the clubs in that vicinity.

The Great Notch Hotel, under the management of George Skidmore, so well known as a conductor on the D. L. & W., is proving very successful, and both cyclists and drivers are taking it in when out for a spin.

Chief Consul S. A. Boyle, of the Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W., has notified President Potter that the Pennsylvania Railroad has decided to carry bicycles as regular baggage on all its lines. This indicates that most of the railroads through the country will in time adopt similar rules.

New members of the L. A. W., from Bloomfield, are: John F. Capen, No. 376 Franklin Street, John G. Tice, R. D. Cornelison, E. Raaflaub, (Hotel Essex.)

The bicycle baggage bill which was passed by the legislature provides that when passengers have no other baggage they have the right to free transportation of bicycles as baggage if facilities for their carriage exist. The railroads, however, are not to be held responsible for damage done to bells, cyclometers or other attachments, and the lanterns, should there be any, must be removed. Any railroad corporation refusing to transport bicycles shall forfeit to the passenger the sum of $10 for each offense, to be recovered in an action for debt.

The Great Cycling Derby.

Through the united action of the Associated Cycling Clubs of New Jersey, New York and Long Island, with the active aid of the old Metropolitan Association, the Irvington-Milburn 25-mile road race, which has proved such a success in past years, will be given this year, and undoubtedly under the new management will be, if possible, more popular than ever. The A. C. C., of N. J., passed a vote of approval at their regular monthly meeting, held last week, so Chairman Walter Rutan attended the joint meeting of the interested organizations, held in New York City on Monday last, with power to act.

This race has been one of the most popular that has been held in this section and has been deservedly called "The Great Cycling Derby," and this name will gain new laurels under the combined management of these large organizations, which embrace most of the cycling clubs within 50 miles of New York City. These clubs, with their thousands of members, and the still larger number of unattached riders, will all help to make Monday, May 31, a memorable one for the cyclist.

Grand stands will be erected at start and finish and a place provided to check wheels. The course for 300 feet will be fenced in so that the riders will have ample space for start and finish. Entry blanks will be out next week and the papers will announce of whom they can be obtained.

AMY ROBSART'S SONG.

From London town my lover came,
Robin a Dudley was his name.
I was a rose, a rose, said he,
And gathered me from off my tree.
I was a rose, most fair and red,
I am a rose whose sweets are shed.

I would my love from London town
Had never lightly ridden down.
Were there no roses there that he
Must come and pluck and shatter me?
My leaves are sear that were so green.
My leaves are wet with tears of teen.

Would God that I had never met
My lover, that has heart to set
Against my breast so sharp a sword.
Would God, instead of belted lord,
That I had loved some meaner clay,
Who loved me on to judgment day.

From London town my lover came
And set a country heart aflame,
Then left it lone to quench or burn
Because a queen must serve his turn.
Nay, but what boots me my disdain?
Would God my love would come again.
—Nora Hopper.

MUSIC AND THE HAIR.

The Effect of Vibrations Upon the Covering of the Head.

In a recent scientific assemblage a discussion took place upon the influence of sleep in skin diseases. One of the gentlemen who took part stated in his criticism of the paper which had been read that one might as well talk of the influence of music upon the growth of the hair. It would seem that the suggestion of a possible connection thus thrown out in a jesting way has been taken seriously. At least a correspondent of Le Temps has made the discovery that music of certain kinds does in reality prevent the hair from falling, while that produced by certain instruments has the most disastrous effects in causing rapid development of baldness. He finds that while composers are as prone as others to lose their hair at an early age those who play their compositions upon the piano preserve, if they do not acquire, a luxuriant growth of hair. On the other hand, wind instruments, and especially the cornet and trombone, are fatal to hirsute adornment. The violoncello and the harp keep the hair in pretty well, but the flute cannot be depended upon to preserve a strong growth after the fiftieth year of age.

A number of pianists, including Paderewski, are cited in confirmation of the pronounced influence of piano music. It has been admitted for some time that music has a certain therapeutic worth, and it will be recalled that Dr. Ferrand presented a report to the French academy on the physiological influence of music, pointing out in what ways it could be employed with therapeutic aims. Subsequently Dr. Betzchinsky reported an instance of night terrors in a child of 3 years, who was cured by having played to it each night music of a calming nature written in a minor key. A test was made after a few nights by omitting the music, and that night alone the child had an attack.

It has not as yet been determined just what key is most favorable to the prevention of an early bald state. Probably a reasonable way of settling the disputed point would be to make a few experiments on dogs, thus proving a tolerance for different strains and avoiding the horripilation to which some patients of refined tastes might be subjected. Wind instruments are always dangerous if the hair has not a good hold, while stiff haired people can stand anything. Possibly a good rule for any musician would be as soon as he finds his hair falling that he should cease playing for others.—Medical Record.

A Bare Faced Fad.

The fashion of the smooth face continues to increase in popularity, and mustaches are daily sacrificed to a fad which is not so well adapted to every man as a great many men evidently think. The style came from England. It became so much the proper thing in England for men to appear without hair on their faces that it was finally found necessary to forbid the practice in the army, as the loss of whiskers was spreading so rapidly that there promised to be a beardless army in a short while. Unbecoming styles of dress are unquestionably accepted when they are the mode. But it was usually thought that the selection of a mustache or a smooth face was founded on a deeper consideration of what made a man look well or the reverse. But that discrimination has been swept away now by the enthusiasm with which the unshaved lip has been declaimed as the right style.—San Francisco Argonaut.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Hoyt's Theatre.

At Hoyt's Theatre next Monday evening, April 19th, H. A. Du Souchet's, "The Man From Mexico," an adaptation from the French, will receive its initial performance in New York City. The story of the play tells about the man, whom we all know, who tries to help his friends out of their troubles, but the more he fixes things for them the more trouble he gets them in. The situations in this new farce are said to be even more ludicrous than in H. A. Du Souchet's "My Friend From India." Smyth & Rice's clever company of comedians will be seen in this comedy among whom are the well known players: Willie Collier, M. A. Kennedy, Theodore Babcock, Louise Allen, Henry Herman, Margaret Gorden and Nita Allen. The scenery is said to be very elaborate and the costumes unique in design.
